Ballet Now is generously supported by Oak Foundation's Special Interest Programme, which provided major funding for the project. Ballet Now is also supported by the Foyle Foundation, Anthony Coombs and The Keith Coombs Trust, The Big Give 2017, The John Feeney Charitable Trust, The Leche Trust, The John S Cohen Foundation, The Hochhauser Foundation, The H Steven and PE Wood Charitable Trust, The W and M Morris Charitable Trust, the estate of Judith and John Percival, Birmingham Royal Ballet's New Work Syndicate 2017 and Director's Appeal 2017.

The score for Sense of Time by Gabriel Prokofiev was commissioned in partnership with the Royal Philharmonic Society with funding from the RPS Drummond Fund. For centuries, many enduring works of classical music have been dance music. The Royal Philharmonic Society looks to sustain this venerable tradition through the RPS Drummond Fund, commissioning composers to collaborate with choreographers on exciting new ventures. The Fund was established in memory of the writer and broadcaster Sir John Drummond CBE, himself a devoted champion of music for dance, and his friend the English-born Diaghilev dancer Lydia Sokolova.
